Business May Be Paralyzed at El Paso Over New Regulation.

on the cars were made to get down at the Mexican end of the Santa Fe bridge and be searched.

Many Americans in Chihuahua.

When the passport goes into effect Thursday there will be hundreds of Americans in the state of Chihuahua who will be unable to return to the United States unless the law is modified or their applications to Washington for passports are granted. It is difficult to ascertain how many there are, but including the American Mormons at Colonia Dublan, Colonia Juarez and other parts of the state, it is believed there are about 1000.

Juarez Business Closes.

Business was practically suspended in Juarez Wednesday, Americans closing their places and returning to El Paso to await results. Nearly one-third of the business houses and restaurants were closed.

The gambling hall was deserted. Instead of being thronged with scores of Americans and tourists, the place was a vacant den. The blackboard of the turf exchange was also bare of entries.

Horses Brought Over.

The thoroughbreds that have been quarantined at the Juarez race track were brought to El Paso Wednesday by their owners and trainers and the racetrack plant was deserted, only the Mexican caretaker being left.

THYING DAMAGE SUIT.

Judge Ballard Colwell, 65th district court, was hearing Wednesday morning the case of El Paso Electric Railway company, a suit for $1000 for injuries alleged to have been received by the plaintiff while alighting from a street car June 20 at Mills and Main.

Is Your Daughter Handicapped By Your Neglect?

Mother, will your child's future be blighted for lack of a cultivated talent?

Shall it be said that your flesh and blood has been swept aside in the world of men and women—unsought because of an inability to interest others?

No accomplishment in the whole gamut of things that appeal, renders a young man or woman more attractive than the ability to make music.

Nor is it necessary that one be an artist to get a sense of serene satisfaction and a chummy companionship out of music.

Many people who are ordinary performers, make their playing a delight to friends and a constant joy to themselves.

The girl with even a moderate mastery of the piano finds herself the center of an admiring circle. She is always in demand.

Her home radiates the sunshine of melody. Young people like to congregate there.

Music in her brings refinement of intellect. She is bright—she is keen—she has a developed sense of humor—she dwells in the celestial city of fine minds.

At the outset, a carefully trained ear and an appreciation of correct tone are essential.

Therefore, the very inspiration your child needs may be found in the right piano.

The house of Jenkins is equipped to supply every piano need, no matter how exacting.

We are neither hidebound or factory bound. We choose piano lines as discriminating people choose their friends.

And we advertise no piano that will not advertise us in the homes of our customers.

Salt Lake Counselor and Other Church Heads to Speak Here Friday.

With the object of acquainting the people of the Mormon church along the Mexican border and in Mexico with the attitude of that church in supporting the United States government in the war, A. W. Ivins, one of the council of 12, from Salt Lake City, accompanied Joseph E. Robinson, president of the California mission, Oscar Kirkham, in charge of the work of the Y. N. M. I. A., which corresponds to the Y. M. C. A. in its purpose, and P. H. Hurst, presiding elder of the Mormon colonies along the border and in western Chihuahua, will be prominent at a public meeting called for Friday night at 7:30 o'clock at Odd Fellows' auditorium on Cleveland square.

Settlers Returning Rapidly.

Reported by Mr. Hurst and others, well equipped, Mr. Ivins has returned from a visit to the Mormon people at Colonia Juarez, and Colonia Dublan, in Chihuahua. The party made the trip in automobiles coming from Columbus and returned there, using the military road built by the army engineers of the Pershing expedition last year.

Mr. Hurst said Wednesday morning that reconquest by the Americans of their lands and other properties in the district around Casas Grandes was proceeding rapidly and that there are more settlers than ever returning since the roadside five years ago. Colonia Garcia will be reestablished in the mountains about 20 miles west of Colima, he said. Mr. Hurst reported the corn crop in the district very good, but the wheat, harvested a few weeks ago, light.

Reports E. L. Taylor Dead.

Heldups by bandits along the military highway had been reported in the past few weeks, but the Ivins party was not molested. Mr. Hurst said that the officials drove from Columbus to Casas Grandes in five hours to attend the funeral of E. L. Taylor, known for many years as one of the prominent settlers of the colonies, who died last week and was buried Friday afternoon at Casas Grandes. His sons are well known in El Paso.

Madera Company Operating Plant.

Mr. Hurst reported that the Madera company is sawing logs three days a week at its Pearson plant, bringing them down from the mountain forest at Cumbe on the switch-back railroad, the tunnel remaining filled with debris since its destruction by Maximino Castillo's bandits.

Confirmation of the death of Juan Saez, killed several months ago, was further obtained. Lumber from the military highway bridges is being stolen by Mexicans and many of them may be made unsafe, said Mr. Hurst.

Soldiers Invited to Meeting.

A special invitation to the Utah soldiers at Fort Bliss in the field artillery was given Wednesday to attend the Friday night meeting and hear Mr. Ivins speak. There are about 40 of them from Salt Lake City.

Mr. Hurst said that O. P. Brown had returned to Casas Grandes from El Paso and that all settlers had found conditions quiet and growing more reassuring generally.

GOVERNOR CANTU'S BAND ARRIVES AT ARIZONA FAIR

Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 14.—The military band of Gov. Esteban Cantu of Lower California, arrived this morning and for the remainder of the week will be a feature at the state fair. The band is sent by Gov. Cantu at his personal expense as a compliment to Gov. Thomas Campbell and as an exhibition of the good will and friendliness existing between two great states of the two great republics, as expressed by Gov. Cantu.

A score of organizations are holding their annual meetings here this week, while 500 teachers are in institute.

Possibly the most entertaining feature at the grounds was the cowboy tournament, in which Benny Dobbin, a California rider, was seriously injured while building a steer.

Representative Davis Says Investigating Because of Recent Order.

"Because of criticism of the University of Texas made by former governor J. E. Ferguson, it was decided by the legislature to investigate the conditions existing in the various institutions of the state," said representative Oscar Davis, who is in El Paso for the purpose of investigating the school of mines.

"A resolution was passed appropriating funds for this purpose and appointing a number of committees, which are now busy investigating not only the educational departments of the state, but all other departments as well, so in all. My committee, which is called 'Committee No. 4,' has 10 or 12 educational institutions to look over. While my colleagues are working at the University of Texas investigation, I am carefully inspecting the School of Mines, which is not, in a legal sense, a branch of the university, but as I call it, an adopted child of the university, and under its supervision.

Mentions Cost Per Student.

"The School of Mines has been largely criticized because of the cost per student. People who do not realize the importance of this school are apt to believe that the students can be educated at some other institution and the money saved for the state. This is, I believe, the wrong idea concerning the situation. The School of Mines is conducting the research and developing their own state in a very important and absolutely necessary way. If our boys are not educated in this line to do developing, another instance will develop those resources in the state. This would be an influence from without the state, and might be that of a foreign power.

"It is not without significance that we note the Germans are developing similar resources in Mexico. There has been opposition to the School of Mines in the legislature, but I am here looking for nothing out of the way, nothing which is not of the best in the matter of administration. I am here to study the situation for the interest of the Texas public.

Will Begin Close Investigation.

"Today I am looking over the physical plant of the School of Mines, to see if there are sufficient buildings for its purposes, and if they are adapted to the needs," continued Mr. Davis. "I shall then study the teaching staff, see the amount and character of the work done, number of instructors employed and the amount of salaries paid. Later the student body will be my especial interest, in all its phases, and all the time I shall study the organization of the school, the coordination of the different departments and the possibility of a more economical administration. I wish to find out if the results which will be obtained in the future justify the present outlay of money, or call for an increased outlay in the near future. I realize that the school is in its infancy and that too much cannot be expected of it at present. I wish to report conditions found now, the difficulties under which these working there are laboring and the future possibilities.

W. H. Long, for six terms chief clerk in the house of representatives, is with Mr. Davis, preparing to introduce a new system of bookkeeping at the school, which will conform to the one he is establishing at the university. A. C. Updeger, special accountant, will audit the books of the school.

SAYS 'IMPOSSIBLE' THINGS ARE BEING DONE EVERY DAY

"The things that can't be done are being done every day." With this as his theme, J. E. Moffett gave an interesting talk Wednesday noon at Hotel Sheldon at the weekly luncheon of the Advertising club. He emphasized that every business can be advertised and has some one controlling idea that can be driven home as a sell point. He illustrated this by calling attention to the fact that certain business lines, heretofore unadvertised nationally, are now making general appeals. An eastern newspaper and a railroad system were examples.

Mr. Moffett also dwelt briefly on cooperative advertising, venturing the statement that there is an untapped field in El Paso for this kind of advertising.

Ray, Fuller Swift made a short talk, reciting a few humorous incidents. He told of the spirit of sacrifice that should actuate everyone at this time, mentioning one free giver who said he believed he should not allow himself anything but the bare necessities of life during the war.

On suggestion of president J. E. Benton, the club voted an endorsement of the Christmas war campaign of the Red Cross.

CLINT STUDENTS PATRIOTIC IN MATTER OF FOOD CARDS

The school children at Clint are proud of a report that none of the food cards distributed at the Clint school were returned with their parents' signatures.

Miss Myra C. Winkler went to Clint school Tuesday afternoon and found that a large number of the cards had been signed, but that the teacher in charge, a substitute, did not understand that they had to be sent to the local food administration office at once. They were dispatched following Miss Winkler's visit.

Clint wants the world to know, the students said, that they are as patriotic as any other Americans.

Lazenby Sells Interest IN HARDWARE STORE HERE

Fred H. Lazenby has sold his interest in the hardware establishment known as Shoen-Lazenby to J. E. Gething. The business was organized in 1914 by Mr. Lazenby and J. M. Shoen, the latter remaining in the reorganized business with Mr. Gething, who was formerly manager of Free man and company.

Mr. Lazenby said Wednesday that he had made no definite plans for the future.

MISS KATHERINE FOSTER GOES TO WED CAPT. BAIRD

Miss Katherine Foster, daughter of the late Judge A. G. Foster, will leave here tonight, accompanied by her brother, A. Gwin Foster, for New Orleans, there to marry Capt. B. M. Baird, once in the First Kentucky Infantry, stationed here last year. The wedding will take place Saturday.

Mr. Foster will visit their brother, Bayne Foster, in the army at San Antonio, Texas, while away.

Columbia Grafonola and Columbia Records

An Electric Grafonola at $135

THE Grafonola which operates by electricity and requires no winding is rapidly growing in favor.

The electric motor of the Columbia is actually a part of the instrument and all the electric equipment is contained within the instrument.

This motor operates on either direct or alternating current and the connection consists merely of inserting the customary plug into an electric-light socket.

With the exception of the electric motor this Grafonola is the same in all respects as Grafonola at $110. Other electric Grafonolas at $185 and $240.

Whether it is an electric or a spring-motor instrument that you finally decide to buy you can be certain that you have bought the phonograph that suits you best only after you have heard the Columbia Grafonola.

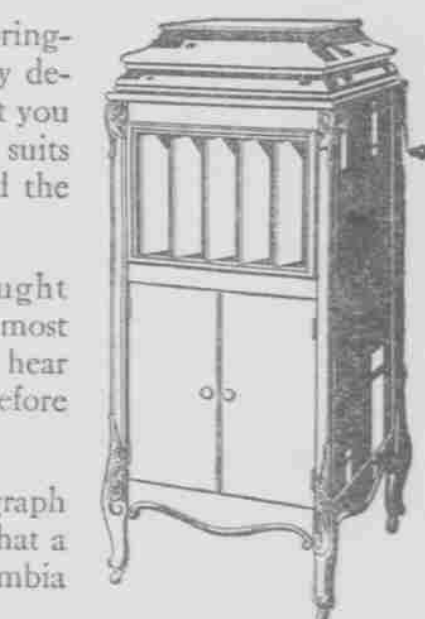

The people who have not bought Columbia Grafonolas are in almost every case the people who did not hear the Columbia and compare it before they ordered.

Let your decision on what phonograph you buy have all the advantage that a visit to one of the many Columbia salesrooms will give.
